On Monday 14th September 2026, as part of our PSHE programme, we are welcoming Loudmouth Education & Training to Dame Elizabeth Cadbury to perform 'A step too far' for pupils in Year 7.

'A step too far' teaches pupils about bullying, resilience, online safety, homophobic and sexual/sexist bullying.

The programme uses well researched drama plus a discussion workshop to help young people identify forms of bullying including cyber/ sextortion, sexist/sexual and homophobic bullying. The session includes work on respect in relationships and highlights the struggles of male victims of teenage relationship abuse.

The statutory Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) and Health Education guidance in secondary schools from the Department of Education states that pupils should know:

- about different types of bullying (including cyberbullying and the impact of bullying).
- about how to get help and the responsibilities of bystanders to report bullying to an adult.
- how stereotypes based on sex, gender, race, religion, sexual orientation or disability, can cause damage.
- what constitutes sexual harassment and sexual violence and why these are always unacceptable.
- about online risks and how to identify harmful behaviours (including online bullying, abuse or harassment) and how to report or find support.

Outline for the day:

9.10am to 10.10am - Performance for Year 7
